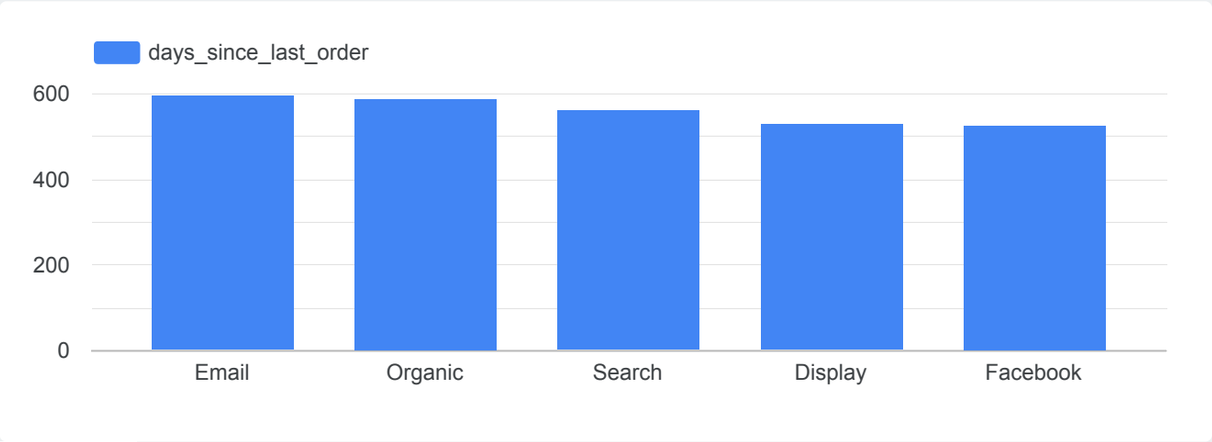
Customer Growth & Retention

	user_id	days_sinc...
1.	44857	419
2.	43100	10
3.	18019	137
4.	38830	655
5.	1866	147
6.	59273	138

1 - 100 / 2770



Key Insight

Marketing Quality: While Search brings in the highest volume of total orders, the Average LTV (Lifetime Value) is relatively consistent across channels. This means the "Quality" is stable, but the "Volume" is lopsided. Churn Emergency: The Churn Risk table shows multiple VIP customers (Top 10% LTV) who have not placed an order in over 200 to 300 days. High-Risk Channels: Customers acquired through Facebook and Display have the highest average days since last order, suggesting these channels might bring in "one-time buyers" rather than loyal repeat customers.

Growth & Retention Roadmap

Recommendation 1: Launch an automated "Win-Back" campaign for the 2,769 VIP customers who have not placed an order in over 120 days .

Recommendation 2: Shift marketing budget from Facebook/Display toward Search and Organic channels, as they provide more consistent, high-value customer acquisition.

Recommendation 3: Create a "Platinum Tier" loyalty program for your top 10% LTV customers to increase their purchase frequency and prevent them from becoming churn risks

Data Source: BigQuery Public Dataset (2019-2026) | Analysis by Maduchi Patrick | Updated: Feb 2026